2 Weekly reflection map

Each cell is one published course week. A cell is filled when the learner submitted a reflection that week: teal = one-sentence summary, amber = muddiest point, both colours = both. Empty cells are weeks without a submission — silence on the platform, not absence from class. Weeks in which the course published no post are left blank.

3 Activities recorded in the learner's course weeks

On CoursedUp each weekly course post carries the activities the instructor used that week, chosen from the platform's activity catalogue (Basic / Advanced / Innovative is the catalogue's own classification of the activity; T / E / A marks its role as teaching, engagement or assessment). The table lists learning activities: things the learner does, makes, discusses, analyses or presents, or meets outside experts and real settings through. Course documents such as the syllabus, lecture formats, platform tools, grading arrangements and standard exams or quizzes are part of the course record too, but are not listed. Count is the number of the learner's 80 course weeks in which the instructor recorded that activity. Attendance is not recorded by the platform.

5 Micro-credential pathways named in the course syllabi

Course syllabi on CoursedUp name the micro-credential pathways their weekly topics are aligned with. The table reproduces those declarations for the learner's courses and shows, for the aligned weeks, how many carry a reflection by the learner. No credential is awarded or verified by this record; whether a pathway leads to a credential is decided by the awarding body, not by the platform.

6 The learner's reflections

Everything in this section was written by the learner on the platform and is quoted verbatim. Across the record period the learner submitted 49 one-sentence summaries, 37 muddiest points and 2 post comments, and marked 49 weekly posts as liked. Selection rule: for each course, the longest summary and the longest muddiest point (earliest week on a tie). Length is a transparent proxy for elaboration, not a quality judgement.

FLA1079 · French Grammar II Fall 2026–27

Summary · W14· Integrated review through editing, rewriting, and extended grammatical commentary

"Integrated editing exercises expose the gap between memorized grammatical paradigms and the ability to manage multiple syntactic systems simultaneously."

Muddiest point · W10· The passive, causative, and voice-related transformations in academic French

"Applying causative structures in academic writing still feels shaky to me because I cannot consistently justify when to prioritize them over active voice."

FLL102 · French Composition I Fall 2026–27

Summary · W2· Sentence Structure and Accurate French Grammar

"Connecting article usage to noun endings forces me to look at the form of words rather than just trying to memorize vocabulary lists in isolation."

Muddiest point · W4· Revision Practices and Peer Feedback

"Distinguishing between structural revisions and surface level grammatical tweaks remains difficult for me. I keep getting lost in the syntax while trying to adjust the broader argument."

FLL104 · Introduction to French Literature Fall 2026–27

Summary · W3· Epic and Chivalric Traditions: Heroism, Honor, and Courtly Culture

"The idealization of courtly love functions primarily as a mechanism for reinforcing feudal hierarchies rather than as a genuine expression of individual desire."

Muddiest point · W16· Final Exam

"The distinction between applying a critical framework and simply summarizing plot points in a high-pressure exam setting is still a concept I find quite shaky."

FLL109 · French Literature from the Middle Ages to the Renaissance Fall 2026–27

Summary · W1· Course orientation, historical scope, and methods of reading medieval French literature

"Close reading establishes the critical distance needed to see how literary forms survive even when the surrounding social structures undergo radical shifts."

Muddiest point · W14· The Renaissance stage and the literary culture of performance, rhetoric, and persuasion

"The specific boundary between a character utilizing formal rhetoric for genuine persuasion and one merely performing artifice remains elusive to me during the fishbowl."

FLL113 · French Literary Analysis Fall 2026–27

Summary · W14· Student Research Presentations and Scholarly Exchange

"Interdisciplinary research forces a constant re-evaluation of my literary methodology to ensure the analysis does not become purely anecdotal."

Muddiest point · W2· Tools of Close Reading: Narrative Voice, Form, and Literary Language

"The exact boundary between free indirect discourse and a character's internal monologue feels fuzzy to me because they share such similar syntactic markers."

About this record

What it is. A summary of this learner's activity on the CoursedUp platform, generated automatically on 13 Oct 2026 from a platform data snapshot dated 13 Oct 2026. Every number is a count over platform records; every quotation is the learner's own text, unedited. No generative AI was used to produce any part of it, and no person reviewed it.

What it is not. It is not a transcript, a diploma supplement or a certificate. It contains no grades or credits, and it does not verify, certify or attest that any skill, competency or credential was attained. Sections 4 and 5 reproduce what course syllabi declare about the design of the courses; they say nothing about the learner's mastery. Section 3 reproduces the activities instructors recorded for their weekly posts; attendance is not tracked.

Definitions. Weeks with a reflection: course weeks in which the learner submitted a one-sentence summary or a muddiest point (56 of 80); comments and likes are not counted. Reflections: the learner's one-sentence summaries and muddiest points added together. Learning activities: catalogue activities in which the learner does, makes, discusses, analyses or presents something, or meets outside experts and real settings; course documents, lecture formats, platform tools, grading arrangements and standard exams or quizzes are excluded, by one classification of the platform's activity catalogue applied identically to every record. Distinct: counted once however many courses declare it, after normalising spelling (case, hyphens, "&"); no synonyms are merged.
